Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 2/28/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Martine does not disclose "a time modulating a control signal" or "controlled current output coupled to the MEMs device on the basis of the time modulated control signal". However, Martin discloses a charge control circuit 32 is configured to control micro-electromechanical device 34 by applying a reference voltage having a selected voltage level provided by variable power supply 36 across first and second conductive plates 42 and 44 for a predetermined time (section 0014). Therefore the modulation of the control signal is at a preset time. Thus, the above rejection is maintained.
